About Lotus Mandarin:

Lotus Mandarin (Lotus Chinese Community Language School Inc. IBN ID: 659) is an approved community language school through NSW Department of Education's CLSP Program. Lotus Mandarin's lesson plans are prepared and designed by its founder Mrs. Jing Gandy and Lotus teaching team. They are especially tailored to our students. The program is delivered in an interactive and fun way, engaging our students with topics and themes that captivate them. Students learn Mandarin language through fun activities such as singing, drama performance, role play, games and interactive learning programs on smartboard. Lotus Mandarin's culture components include:

- Chinese traditional arts, calligraphy, martial arts and crafts;
- Appreciation of classical Chinese poetry and music;
- General knowledge of Chinese traditions and customs, etc.

About Lotus Mandarin founder:

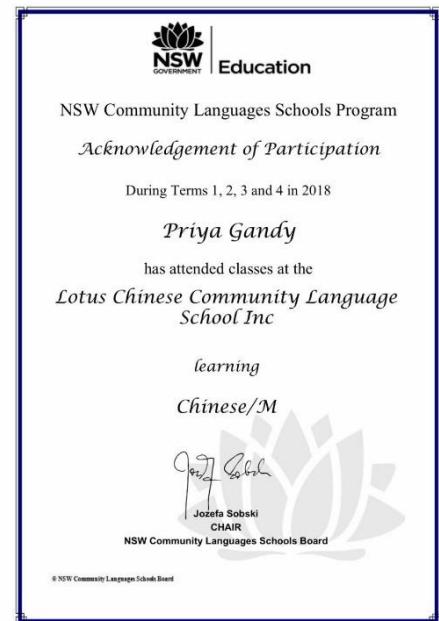

Mrs. Jing Gandy had been lecturing Economics in Liaoning University of Technology for 5 years in China and received 'Excellent Lecturer' Award from the university in 1995. She migrated to Australia in 1998. In year 2000 she completed a postgraduate degree in Accounting at Macquarie University and CPA Program afterwards. She worked as an accountant until 2010 when she had her daughter, Priya. From 2008 to 2016, she studied Ceramics and Visual Arts at Northern Beaches TAFE and Sydney College of Arts, The University of Sydney. She achieved certification in Language Teaching in 2015 and certification in Leadership and School Management in 2018 through The University of Sydney. She was also a volunteer Ethics teacher at Mona Vale Public School. Mrs. Gandy passionately believes children can benefit a lot from learning another language. Lotus Mandarin provides our students great opportunities to learn Chinese language and culture, unlock our children's potential in an increasingly connected world.

Opportunities that Lotus Mandarin students have:

- Our outstanding students have opportunity to be nominated for Minister's Award;
- Students of Lotus Mandarin will receive Certificates issued by NSW Community Languages Schools Board if they attend four terms (80% plus attendance) of Mandarin classes during the year;
- Participate in Chinese language events and competitions.
